

Although we are generally against the big company's infringing on the smaller company's business, I do believe that XM Radio has the right to expand to include local service in some areas. I do not believe in any monopolizing no matter what the size of the company and that is what seems to be what NAB wants. Because XM is a premium subscription service, there are alot of consumers who could not or would not pay the price for it. There are plenty of consumers to go around.

Respectfully,
